DETAILED ACTION

1. This communication is responsive to the applicant's amendment dated 07/22/2004.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112, 1st Paragraph

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The claimed features of "a disc player that is connectable to a mixing apparatus, where the disc player comprising: an outputting part which outputs an audio signal read from a disc; a memory for storing a designated address position; and a controller which performs a control operation to start a reproduction operation when an instruction to start reproduction is received from the mixing apparatus and stop the reproduction operation and to move a pickup to an address position stored in said memory to stand by when an instruction to stop reproduction is received from said mixing apparatus. With the disc player, wherein said address position stored in the memory is an address position previously designated by a user" is not clearly disclosed or supported by specification. The specification discloses an audio signal mixer with a microcomputer 5 for control specific audio signal mixing functions, but does not disclose a mixer with specific output signals used for controlling a disc player that performing specific functions as claimed and argued in Applicant's remark.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
